The Aberystwyth Music Festival has developed into an unique and very special event during its first three years. It has now established a firm tradition of inviting some of Britain's leading musicians to perform, some of whom are in residence for the duration of the Festival.

This year, our excellent programme features music from Schubert songs to chamber music performed by a range of ensembles, from Vivaldi Concerti to Bach's B minor Mass.

The Festival now has its own outstanding chamber orchestra, the Festival Ensemble of Wales, which is touring the Principality this year for the first time. We're also delighted to announce that this year we shall be setting up a Festival Chorus!

This is just a taste of all the good things to come this year! For complete details of the Festival programme of concerts and courses, please don't hesitate to complete the slip on the back of this leaflet.
